CHARGED WITH HIGH TREASON

Trial of Sir Roger Casement Opened in London This Afternoon

SUPPOSED HEAD OF SINN FEINERS

Attorney General Told of Attempts to Seduce Irish Prisoners Held by Germans and of Landing Expedition on Irish Coast.

LONDON, May 15.—Sir Roger Casement, the supposed head and prime instigator of the Sinn Feiners' rebellion in Ireland, was arraigned today, charged with treason. The few spectators were considerably surprised when a second prisoner was placed beside Casement in the dock. This man, Daniel Julian Bailey, is a private soldier who was arrested with Casement. He was jointly charged with Casement with high treason.

In opening the case for the crown, Atty.-Gen. Sir Frederick Smith charged that Casement had conducted a systematic campaign among Irish prisoners in Germany with the purpose of seducing them from their allegiance. Bailey, he said, had been seduced in this manner and had made a statement explaining Casement's actions in detail.

The attorney general said that Bailey had related how a large number of Irish prisoners had been collected from various prisons in Germany and placed in a large camp at Limburg. Here they heard addresses by Casement, who tried to inflame their minds against the British government and persuade them to break their oaths of allegiance and support him in his projected expedition to Ireland.

The attorney general said Casement described himself as the organizer of the Irish volunteers and impressed upon the Irish prisoners in Germany that everything was to be gained for Ireland by German's winning the war. Those prisoners who joined a brigade he was attempting to form were promised by Casement that they would be sent to Berlin as guests of the German government and in the event that Germany won a sea battle he would land the brigade in Ireland to defend the country against England, and if Germany lost the war the German government would give each man 10 pounds to 20 pounds in cash and free passage to America.

Sir Frederick Smith followed with details of Casement's trip by submarine to Tralee, where he landed on Good Friday with Bailey and a third man named Monteith, who is still at large.

He also told of sending a ship with 20,000 rifles from Germany to Tralee and of how this ship was sunk at Tralee and the crew was captured.

The attorney general here introduced a dramatic touch by having brought into court a green rebel flag, which he said Casement had brought from Germany to Ireland.

For a moment the prisoner sat with eyes fixed on the floor, refusing to look at the flag. Then he glanced up at the flag and smiled. The calling of witnesses for the crown began immediately after Sir Frederick concluded his address.

Casement, when opportunity offered, arose and said that Bailey was innocent and he thought that the indictment was wrongly drawn against him. Casement then offered to procure counsel to defend Bailey, who, he said, was without means. The first witness was John Robinson, who was one of the prisoners taken to Germany in the early stages of the war and recently released. He said that of the 4,000 Irish prisoners gathered at Limburg to hear Casement's exhortation between 50 and 60 joined the Irish brigade.

SPOFFORD LAKE TRAGEDY RECALLED

Death of Clara Louise Kellogg Brings to Mind Drowning of Members of Her Concert Company.

The death of Clara Louise Kellogg, the noted prima donna of years ago, in her home near Hartford, Conn., after a long illness, recalls to older residents the tragedy of her visit to Brattleboro in the last week of May, 1882, when George A. Condy, singer, and Herman Ritzel, members of her concert company, went to Spofford lake for an outing, and both were drowned. No one witnessed the accident, but a light boat in which they were rowing was overturned. Musons, Odd Fellows and others worked at the lake with grappling, water telescopes and other apparatus, but without finding the bodies, which did not come to the surface until about two weeks had elapsed.

TRYING TO BRING FACTIONS TOGETHER

Premier Asquith Believed to Be Trying for Coalition for Government of Ireland.

LONDON, May 15.—Premier Asquith's visit to Belfast seems to give color to reports that he is trying to arrange a coalition between the two Irish factions for a temporary war government of Ireland. There has been no rebellious movement in Belfast and apparently the premier's consultation with prominent men of that city will deal with broader questions than the rebellion in other parts of Ireland.

DECLINED TO SUPPLY FOOD.

Great Britain Places Responsibility in Luxembourg on Germany.

BERLIN, May 15, by wireless to Saxville.—Advices from Luxembourg stated that the director general asserted in the diet that Great Britain had declined to supply food for Luxembourg on the ground that Germany, having occupied that country, is responsible, the Over Seas News agency says. To this the Luxembourg government responded that the position taken by Great Britain was not well grounded, inasmuch as Germany had never requisitioned food in Luxembourg, but on the contrary had sent provisions there.

BRITISH ON OFFENSIVE.

Unable, However, to Recapture Trenches from Germans.

BERLIN, May 15, wireless to Saxville.—The British have been attacking the German line near Halluch in Northern France in an effort to recapture the trenches recently taken by the Germans there, but all their attempts have been repulsed, according to today's statement by the war office. In the Verdun region the French failed in the attacks near Dead Man's hill and the Caillet woods.

BELGIANS SUCCESSFUL.

Capture Kigali, Capital of German Province in East Africa.

PARIS, May 15.—Further successes for the Belgian expedition which has invaded German East Africa were announced in an official statement today by the Belgian war department at Havre. The statement says the Southern column occupied Kigali, the capital of the German province of Ruanda on May 8.

BOMBARDMENT CONTINUES.

Avocourt Woods Scene of the Main Fighting on Verdun Front.

PARIS, May 15.—Bombardment in the region of the Avocourt woods and Hill No. 304 in the Verdun sector continues according to the official statement issued today by the French war office. AGAINST MAIL SEIZURES.

United States to Make Vigorous Protest to Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The American government is preparing a protest characterized by officials as "very vigorous" against the interference with mails to and from the United States by Great Britain. A note to be sent forward in the near future will take the position that the United States can no longer countenance seizure and detention of mails to and from the United States, particularly those concerning neutrals.

MORE RAIDS ARE EXPECTED

Force Patrolling the District Near Brownsville to Be Strengthened

SECOND EXPEDITION CHECKS ITS DASH

Is Now 200 Miles Beyond Their Base, Without Sufficient Troops to Protect Lines of Communication—Bandits Behind Them.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 15.—Information indicating a plan for the resumption of raids across the international line near Brownsville, Texas, has reached army headquarters here and will, it is expected, cause a considerable strengthening of the force now patrolling that district. It was indicated that the Thirtieth infantry coming from New York state, would be sent to Rio Grand City for service between there and Brownsville, the district so frequently raided a year ago. Official reports gave no additional news of the activity of armed Mexicans opposite Progreso, Texas, but their presence there is in the line of reports made by both agents of the department of justice and agents of the state department.

MARATHON, Texas, May 15.—The expedition in search of the bandits who raided Glen Springs has checked its dash into Mexico and is now awaiting reinforcements before pushing on, according to reports received here today. A message has been sent to Maj. Gen. Funston asking for aid. Military observers point out that a squadron of Eighth cavalry is now perhaps 200 miles beyond their base without sufficient troops to protect their line of communication. Several instances have been reported of bandits operating behind the expedition without meeting with armed resistance.

CALLS DR. WAITE A THIEF.

District Attorney Hears He Robbed Church Plate as a Boy.

NEW YORK, May 15.—An examination into the life history of Dr. Arthur W. Waite, by the district attorney's office, has produced additional proof that the dentist, who goes to trial for murder next Monday, was a thief from early youth. When only 18 years old, as organizer in a Presbyterian church of Menominee, Mich., he stole more than $300 from the church collections according to information received from Menominee by Assistant District Attorney Dooling. The young organizer was at first held in high esteem by the pastor and congregation, but after a time, the treasurer observed that the collections were surprisingly small and set out to discover the reason. For several weeks the treasurer made no headway; then one Sunday he saw Waite snatch a bunch of bills from a collection tray that was near the organ, and stuff them into his pocket.

Waite was brought before the session and accused of theft. He broke down and admitted that he had stolen about $300. The session refrained from prosecuting the organizer on condition that he leave the town at once, which he did.

Assistant District Attorney Dooling expects to examine 15 witnesses this week who will come from Grand Rapids for Waite's trial. Among them will be Dr. Waite's wife, who will bring letters written to her by her husband before and after their marriage.

TRIAL POSTPONED.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The pleading of Wolfe Von Igel, former secretary to Franz Von Papen, to indictments charging conspiracy to blow up the Welland canal and violations of customs laws was postponed until Wednesday in the federal court today on application of the assistant district attorney pending the determination by the state department of the status of the papers seized in Von Igel's office at the time of his arrest.

ACCUSES REPUBLICANS OF POLITICAL TRICK

Dr. H. Nelson Jackson Says Stickers for Roosevelt Not Sanctioned by Progressives.

(Special to The Reformer.)

BARRE, May 15. I have just discovered that some of the old guard of the Republican party of this state are again up to their old political tricks. The state has been flooded with Hughes stickers, and there have been issued a few Roosevelt stickers. The Roosevelt stickers have not been issued with the sanction of the Progressive party. Everyone knows that the Colonel has not allowed his name to be used in any of the state primaries, and we have respected that wish.

We called the national convention of the Progressive party to assemble in Chicago at the same time the national convention of the Republican party is to assemble there. We took this action believing that the surest way to secure for our country the recognized leadership will be by having, if possible, both the Progressive and Republican party choose the same standard bearer and the same principles. We are confident that the rank and file of the Republican party and the very large independent vote of this country will support such an effort. In this turning point in the world's history, we will not stick on details. We will lay aside partisanship and prejudice, but we will never surrender the great principles for which we stand and have stood. We will follow only a leader, whom we know stands for them and is able to put them through.

The Progressive party of Vermont has not directly or indirectly issued any stickers and in view of this fact, it is unnecessary and a piece of cheap politics for any stickers to be issued by the Republican politicians.

"MOTHERS' DAY" AT SING SING.

Many Relatives of the 1,500 Inmates Join in Prison Observance.

OSKINING, May 15.—Mothers, friends and relatives of the 1,500 inmates of Sing Sing flocked to the prison yesterday to join in the observance of Mothers' day. White carnations and other flowers decorated the walls and altar in the chapel during the Catholic service in the morning. Conducted by Father Cashin, prison chaplain. The flowers were sent by friends of Warden Kirkway and Spencer Miller, jr., the warden's secretary.

John L. Johnson, in urging the inmates to observe the day, says in the prison periodical of which he is editor that it is set aside "in honor of the best mother that ever lived."

"If you cannot be with your mother in person," reads the article in part, "you will be with her in thought. Send her a message of affectionate greeting to let her know that you are thinking of her."

Warden Kirkway, it was announced at the prison, has completed a draft of inmates to be transferred to Great Meadow prison at Comstock Tuesday or Wednesday.

SAVES BOY FROM DROWNING.

Adelard Payeur Rescues Ernest Jay in Moose River.

ST. JOHNSBURY, May 15.—A drowning accident was averted here yesterday by the quick work of Adelard J. Payeur, who jumped into the Moose river and rescued Ernest Jay, six-year-old son of Alfred Jay. The little boy had wandered away from home following older companions, who were fishing on the river bank. He tried to cut a fish pole, lost his balance and fell some distance into the river and about the 15-foot mill dam of the American Hoe and Fork company.

As the small boy was hurled over the dam, Payeur, who out for an afternoon stroll, saw the body and throwing off his coat plunged in just below the rapids. He brought the boy up and applied first aid and carried him home. The child is badly cut and bruised but his condition is not serious. This is the second person Mr. Payeur has saved from drowning.

FENTON DIES IN HOSPITAL

Well-Known Resident Three Times Commander of Sedgwick Post

SAW HARD SERVICE DURING CIVIL WAR

Served as Aide on Staff of Commander-in-Chief and as President of the 11th Connecticut Regimental Association—Lived Here 65 Years.

Patrick Joseph Fenton, 74, of Elliot street, for 65 years a resident of Brattleboro and one of its best known veterans of the Civil war, died Saturday before midnight in the Memorial hospital of troubles due to his age. He had been in failing health for two years, but always retained his sense of humor and found pleasure in life. Three times he had been commander of Sedgwick post, G. A. R., and he had been president of the 11th Connecticut Regimental association and an aide on the staff of the commander in chief of the G. A. R. He was a devout member of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church and always was interested in the welfare of his home town.

The funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Michael's Roman Catholic church and the burial will take place in the Roman Catholic cemetery. Sedgwick post, G. A. R., will attend the services and act as escort to the body.

Patrick Joseph Fenton was born Aug. 8, 1841, in the village of Carew, parish of Jeannin County, Kerry, Ireland, a son of Joseph and Elaine (Fitzgerald) Fenton. He came to this country when seven years old and always had a vivid memory of that voyage, which lasted six weeks and two days and during which the vessel was on fire at one time.

In 1849 Mr. Fenton's father moved his family from Hoxrook, Mass., where he had been engaged on the construction of the first dam built in that city, to Brattleboro, where the head of the family was a member of the construction gang of the Vermont Valley railroad. As the construction work proceeded the Fenton family followed the work, their first shanty being built where the Bradley house now stands. Upon the completion of the road the family came to Brattleboro in 1852 and Mr. Fenton had lived here continuously since.

When a boy Mr. Fenton entered the employ of George B. Folsom, a wealthy New York resident who had a summer home in Brattleboro. During his service with this family Mr. Fenton met many men of prominence, including Generals Scott and Dix and such famous newspapermen of the early days as the elder Bennett, Greeley and Raymond, and finally the Prince of Wales, who came to this country in 1869.

Mr. Fenton was still in the employ of Mr. Folsom when Fort Sumter was fired upon. With Patrick O'Grady Mr. Fenton went to Connecticut and enlisted for three years in the 11th Connecticut regiment. Company G, of which he became a member, lost 127 men during the year and the regiment had a total loss from all causes of 1,126. The regiment saw its first hard service at the battle of Cold Harbor. The regiment remained practically all summer before Petersburg. In the battle of Aug. 5 before that city the regiment was so decimated that only 85 men and one captain answered the roll call.

Mr. Fenton was with the advance of the Union troops that first entered the city of Richmond and was one of those assigned to the task of extinguishing the flames that were destroying many buildings. Mr. Fenton was mustered out of the service Jan. 6, 1869. He was always proud of the fact that of the 25 Irish boys who went from this section to the front there was not a coward or deserter among them.

After working on a farm, in a machine shop and one year on the construction of the Hoosac Tunnel, Mr. Fenton entered in 1882 the employ of the Estey Organ Co. and remained steadily with that concern until failing health in the last year or two had prevented him from working regularly. Mr. Fenton married in New York, May 5, 1878, Miss Sarah Hart, the ceremony being performed in St. Stephen's church by Rev. Father Curran. Mrs. Fenton died March 1, 1893, leaving three children, who survive their father. They are John, employed by the Dunham Brothers Co., William, who conducts a plumbing shop on Elliot street, and Miss Helen, who has kept

Many Townspeople Call at Residence and Many Messages Are Received from Business Friends.

George C. Averill, former president of the Vermont National bank, who was acquitted Friday night of the charge of violating the national banking laws by making entries on the bank books intended to deceive, arrived in Brattleboro Saturday afternoon on the 4:27 train. The evening many townspeople, including home and business friends, called at his residence on Main street to express their gratification over the outcome of the trial, and since the trial Mr. Averill has received many letters and messages from banking and business friends in various sections of New England.

As stated in The Reformer Saturday, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, but Mr. Averill wishes it stated that under the rulings and charge of the judge not only was it fully confirmed by the jury that no funds of the bank were missing (although this point at no time been claimed) but full vindication was had on charges of making or causing to be made on the books of the bank false entries with the intent to deceive or defraud the bank, the government or any individual.

State Fish and Game Commissioner J. W. Titcomb writes The Reformer that there are only two applications on file from Brattleboro and vicinity for trout from the state hatchery and that Windham county has made less applications than any other county in the state.

The state fish and game department has more trout on hand than ever before at this time of year and must ship a lot of fry immediately. Blanks on which to apply for fish to stock public waters may be had by applying to the state fish and game commissioner at Lyndonville, Vt.

SEA TO SEA FLIGHT.

Aero Club Prizes Will Aggregate $100,000.

NEW YORK, May 15.—A transcontinental aeroplane competition, for which prizes aggregating $100,000 probably will be offered, has been decided upon by the Aero club of America, it was announced here last night. The plan, which has for its object, it was stated, the development of the aerial defense of the country, was suggested by Ralph Pulitzer of New York, who has given a trophy for annual competition. In a letter to the club, Mr. Pulitzer declared that "it seems the irony of fate that the country of Langley, the Wright, Curtiss and other pioneers who may be said to have given the world wings, lags last where it should be first." The route for the transcontinental flight and the date will be announced later.

SCOTT BACK FROM BORDER

Chief of Staff of the Army in Conference with Department Heads

HOPEFUL ABOUT THE SITUATION

Believes There Will Be No Great Delay in Arriving at an Understanding and Formulating a Protocol with Gen. Carranza.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Maj. Gen. Scott, chief of staff of the army, returned today from his border conferences with Gen. Obregon, hopeful for the situation despite the fact that the conference resulted in no formal agreement for co-operative action.

The chief of staff conferred with Secretary Baker, but made no formal report. Secretary Baker said Gen. Scott stated that he thought a favorable situation had been created by the conference. Gen. Scott will see Secretary Lansing tomorrow, and meanwhile no steps will be taken to reopen the diplomatic relations for a formal agreement with Carranza.

Secretary Baker indicated that Gen. Scott thought there would be no great delay in arriving at an understanding and formulating a protocol. Pending the ratification of an agreement Carranza troops are being moved northward into the bandit ridden portion of Mexico. The American expeditionary force under Gen. Pershing is being withdrawn under strong groups on the line of communication, where it will await the outcome of Gen. Obregon's effort to clean up the territory to the south.

TRACING POISON.

Mrs. Gilligan Bought Ten Ounces in Windsor Drug Store.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 15.—Important developments in the investigation into a number of alleged suspicious deaths at the Archer home for elderly people at Windsor are expected within a week. Just what these developments would be could not be learned from any official source as the authorities still maintain their attitude of secrecy.

It has been learned, however, from a reliable source that the police investigation has disclosed that three days before Michael W. Gilligan died in February, 1914, his wife, who is charged with murdering one of the inmates of the home, purchased 10 ounces of poison at a Windsor drug store. The poison is said to have been the same that is alleged to have caused the death of Franklin R. Andrews with whose murder Mrs. Archer-Gilligan is specifically charged.

The police would not comment on a widespread rumor that Mr. Gilligan's body had been ordered exhumed and an autopsy performed neither would they discuss rumors that a number of bodies would be exhumed in various Connecticut cemeteries.

During much of his school life he kept books in the store of his father and was very industrious. 172 WITHOUT FOOD.

Cape Verde Schooner Puts in to Nantucket for Provisions.

NANTUCKET, Mass., May 15.—Destitute of provisions and almost unmanageable after five weeks battling with storms, the three-masted packet schooner Mystic, bound from Cape Verde islands for New Bedford, dropped anchor yesterday off Great Round Shoal lightship, and sent a boat ashore for assistance. Members of the crew said that the 172 persons on board, including the 150 passengers, had been virtually without food for two days, and that the breakfast ration yesterday consisted only of half-eup of coffee. A wagon load of provisions was sent to Quinnet beach and then transferred to the schooner. Later the steamer Petrel took the Mystic in tow for New Bedford.

For the first time in four years Holy Cross was able to beat Yale Saturday at Worcester, Mass., by a score of 2 to 1.
